USING CHATGPT/AIPRM TOGETHER

AIPRM and the community of Prompt Engineers have done the hard work of figuring out how to get the most out of your ChatGPT prompts without the hard work on your part.

By using AIPRM's Google Chrome Extension for ChatGPT you can gain access to public and premium prompts created by a community of content engineers.

These prompts increase productivity, the quality of the outputs you receive as well as provide you the opportunity to create more uses for ChatGPT in your daily workflow.

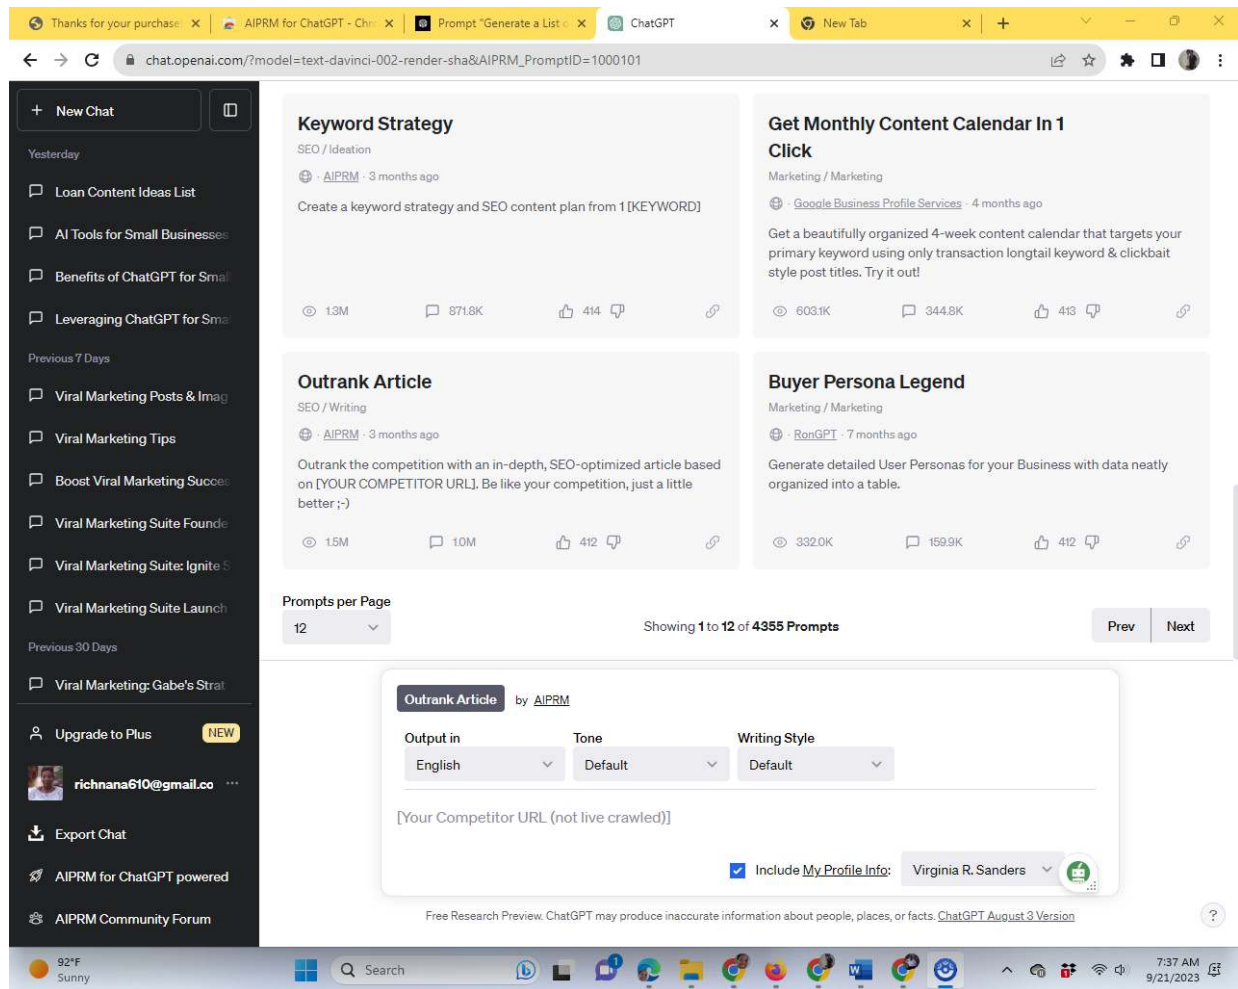

In this short report, I'll explore how ChatGPT can help with your marketing efforts, along with examples of the best prompts I recommend trying out.

The use cases for ChatGPT are endless, but these are some of the best ways individual owners of businesses can benefit.

There are different sections of the AIPRM. Each single tab that you see is a prompt template.

Some of these are generated by AIPRM (For example) this one on the bottom called "outrank article" are generated by community members.

Overview of the AIPRM Screen

Hover over any of these areas, you're going to see three sections down below the first one on the left is the number of views a prompt has received.

This means people have clicked on this prompt to check it out. The Second section displays the number of usages it has.

The third area displays the number of upvotes it has received

You can upvote or download any of the prompts by using the thumbs up or down.

You can report the prompt by clicking this if you think the prompt offers offensive or illegal information.

You can copy a specific prompt and send it to a friend or colleague.

There are over 1700 prompts already in place. The front page shows 20 of them on the front page.

You can change the number so this page shows only four at a time. Click the button to show 5 to 8 and then 9 to 12.

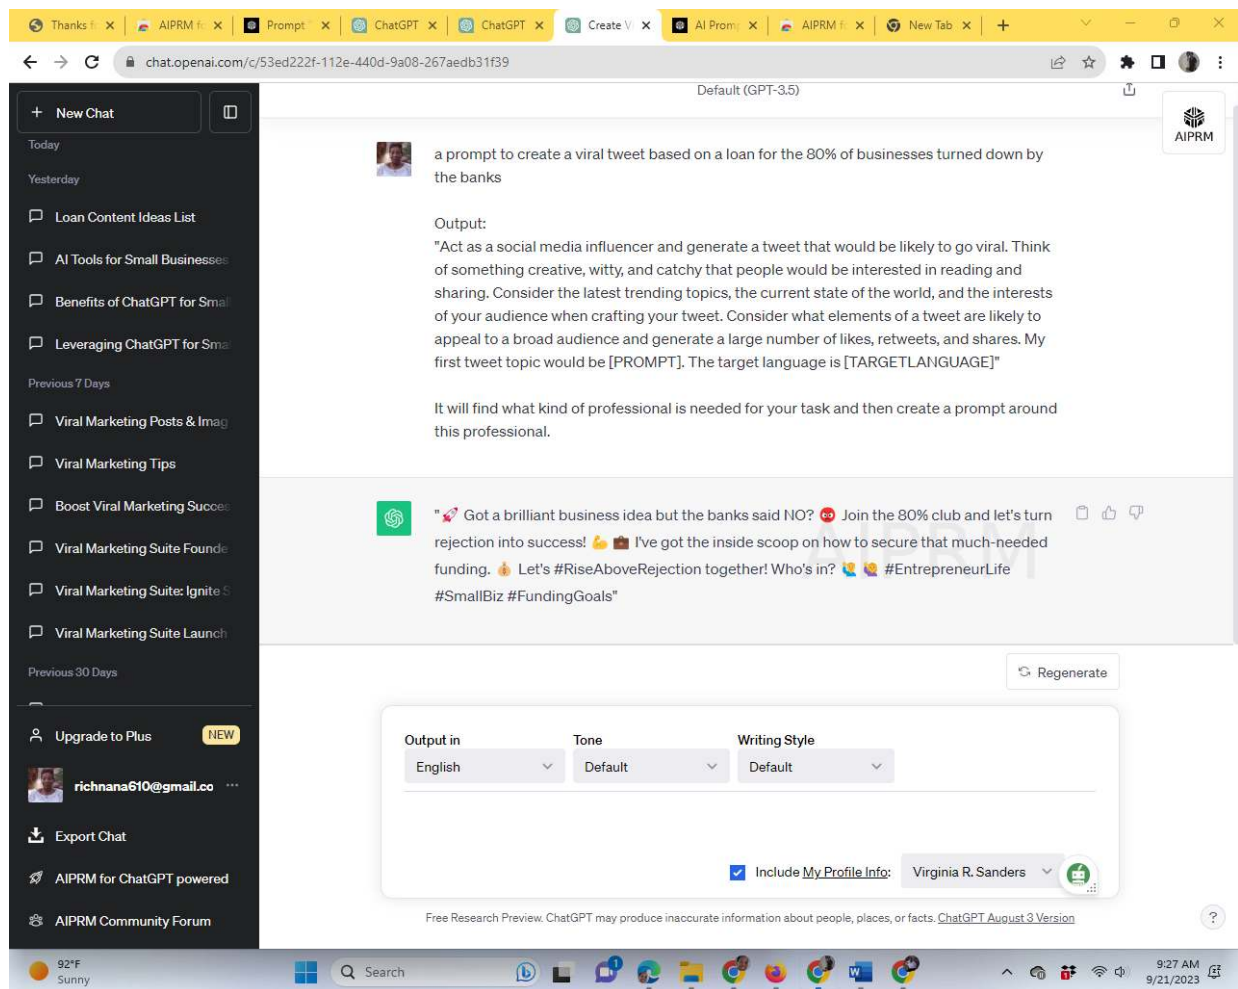

If you already know what kind of prompt, you're looking for you search with a keyword.

PROMPTS FOR CONTENT CREATION WITH AIPRM:

I needed to create a viral tweet for my loan business David Allen Capital. My idea was to create a compelling social media campaign to get people to either get a loan or become an agent for this program.

Write a compelling article that features of being an agent is that the loan funds fast. As an agent you receive your commission within 2 days of the funding.

If you want to look for content for a blog posts:

AIPRM PROMPT: OUTLINE FOR BLOG ARTICLE

For this prompt you just need to include the keyword you want the content piece to target.

From there, ChatGPT will use the keyword and information to create an outline on what the article should include. You can use this information as the baseline for your content brief.

This prompt is useful for writing product descriptions for Etsy and Shopify Owners.

Other prompts to explore:

- Write an SEO-friendly Product Description
- Generate Click Enticing Product Name & Unique Product Description

Like many of AIPRM's prompts this one simply asks for a descriptive product name.

Only one at a time.

AIPRM Prompt: Facebook Ads Hook Generator

AIPRM asks for three key points.

1. What is it you are promoting,
2. Who is the target
3. What is the benefit?

Address these points in clear, concise ways for the best results.

Certainly, here are 10 compelling headlines for social media posts highlighting the benefits of becoming an agent for David Allen Capital, where businesses receive loans in just 2 days and agents get their commissions equally quickly:

1. "Unlock Financial Freedom: Join DAC and Start Earning Commissions in Just 48 Hours!"

2. "Be the Hero Businesses Need! DAC Agents: Loans in 2 Days, Commissions in 2 Days!"
3. "Fast-Track Your Success: DAC Agents Enjoy Lightning-Fast Commissions and Funding!"
4. "Invest in Your Future: DAC Agents Thrive with Rapid Commissions and Quick Loans!"
5. "DAC Agents Thrive on Speed! 2 Days to Loans, 2 Days to Commissions!"
